

Career Directions Inventory (CDI)

Extended Report

Name: Sam Sample
Gender: Male
Report Date: May 12, 2024

This report is based on your answers to the Career Directions Inventory (CDI). Your scores indicate how your interests in various work activities compare to the interests of other people.

It is important to consider your interests carefully because they can help you find a rewarding career. But you should also consider other factors when exploring educational and career opportunities. Think about how your interests, abilities, experiences, personality, and values will influence your satisfaction and success. These factors are important in career exploration -- just as important as your interests. For example, certain fields require a lot more study and work than others. If you find that long hours of studying do not appeal to you, take this into account when considering a career.

There is a vast amount of information contained in this report and lots of helpful advice. Take the time to study the information. Make use of the career resources suggested in the CDI report. It will be worth the time you spend. Finding a satisfying career is important.

Index to your CDI report:

- Page 2: A profile of scores reflecting your interests on the 15 Basic Interest Scales, such as Art, Sales, and Science.
- Page 4: A profile of your scores on seven General Occupational Themes, which represent broad interest patterns. For example, scientists and engineers usually obtain high scores on the Investigative/Logical interest theme.
- Page 6: A profile of your scores on the 27 Job Clusters, such as Law Enforcement and Agriculture. This is followed by a closer look at your Top Three Job Clusters.
- Page 16: A profile showing the similarity of your interests to the interests of students in 100 different educational fields, such as nursing, drafting, or data processing.
- Page 19: The administrative indices indicate how much confidence you can have in the accuracy of your CDI report, based on the consistency of your responses.
- Page 20: Where do you go from here? This section lists a variety of career resources, and provides you with a plan you can build upon.

Basic Interest Scales

The chart below presents your scores on the 15 Basic Interest Scales in a bar graph profile. A high score on a particular scale indicates that you have a strong interest in that work activity (for example, Sales), or preferred work style (Assertive, Persuasive, Systematic). Study your profile carefully. Low scores (less than 30) are just as important as high scores (greater than 70), as these indicate lack of interest or even extreme dislike for certain activities. Use the scale definitions on the next page to get a clearer picture of your career interests.

Basic Interest Scale Profile Explanation

- Percentile: The scores under this heading indicate the percentage of people in a comparison group who received a lower interest score than you did.
- Comb: The scores in the Combined column of percentiles compare your interests with the combined group of males and females.
- Male: The scores in the Male column of percentiles compare your interests with those of the males in the comparison group.
- Female: The scores in the Female column of percentiles compare your interests with those of the females in the comparison group.

This CDI report is based on a normative sample developed in 2000. This sample consists of 2500 individuals (1250 men and 1250 women).

Basic Interest Scale Descriptions

Scale	Description
Administration	Enjoys organizing the financial or day-to-day operations of a business or institution, supervising the activities of others, planning work schedules, and maintaining records.
Art	Has a special appreciation for the arts, and enjoys participation in them. This may involve performing on stage, or creating visual artwork.
Clerical	Enjoys office work of a systematic nature, involving attending to details and routine duties.
Food Service	Likes to be involved in the preparation, serving, or selling of food products.
Industrial Art	Enjoys making or repairing things using machinery, or by hand.
Health Service	Interested in helping to prevent, diagnose, or cure diseases through laboratory work, or by attending to the health needs of individuals directly.
Outdoors	Likes working outdoors, especially in agriculture with animals and/or plants. May enjoy the challenge of potentially dangerous situations.
Personal Service	Likes interacting with others and providing the public with services involving personal contact.
Sales	Interested in selling merchandise or services. This usually involves an understanding of products and services, demonstration, informing customers of their features, and being persuasive with others.
Science	Enjoys working with abstract ideas, scientific equipment, and mathematical logic and reasoning to solve practical or abstract problems.
Teaching/ Social Service	Enjoys instructing people in learning new things, helping people solve problems, and assisting others.
Writing	Enjoys either creative or technical writing. Likely to have broad interests.
Assertive	Prefers working situations in which it is appropriate to assert authority over others, and to direct and monitor their work.
Persuasive	Enjoys work which involves influencing, advising, counselling, guiding, motivating, or directing the activities of others.
Systematic	Prefers jobs that involve routine but challenging assignments in which order and persistent, steady effort are required. Likes job security to be established, and dislikes frequent changes in schedule and situations requiring quick decisions.

Theme	Description
Enterprising	High scorers on this theme are people-oriented. They like to talk to, influence and persuade others. They are confident, adventurous, assertive and show leadership. Money, power and status are attractive rewards to them. They are very often interested in the world of business, especially in the areas of supervision or sales.
Artistic/Communicative	Someone with a high score on this theme is often thought of as original and creative by others. Such people enjoy expressing themselves in artistic ways such as acting, dancing, creating music or visual art, or by expressing their ideas either through discussion or debate. They appreciate these creative talents in others as well. Their whole range of interests is wide. They adapt to change well and like jobs that are not too routine.
Social/Helping	High scorers on this theme show a strong interest in the welfare of other people. They are interested in helping to keep others emotionally or physically healthy, or in teaching others. They are thought of as responsible, sympathetic, kind and supportive. They enjoy giving advice and working directly with people, either in groups or individually.
Investigative/Logical	Those with high scores on this theme enjoy the challenge of problem solving in mathematics, technology, and sciences, and the abstract and practical ideas related to these areas. They have a great deal of curiosity about the physical world. Applied science, such as engineering, technology or computer science may also be of interest to them. They often derive more satisfaction from a job well done than from pleasing other people. They can be technically creative.
Conventional	People that score highly on this theme enjoy working in large organizations, especially in the business world. They show careful attention to detail, are organized, follow instructions well and prefer jobs where their daily duties are regular and fixed. They may enjoy supervising others in jobs where rules and tasks are well defined. They are more comfortable with verbal tasks and working with figures rather than with jobs requiring physical activity or that may involve physical risk.
Serving	People who score highly on this theme are happy in jobs requiring sociability, politeness, patience and a happy disposition. Such people enjoy having variety built into their jobs and are attracted to careers that bring them into contact with a wide cross-section of the public. They enjoy helping others, serving others' personal needs and looking after the comfort and well-being of others. They are likely to be involved in such service areas as the hospitality businesses (restaurants and hotels), travel, personal grooming, and clothing care.

Top Three Job Clusters

On the next pages, you will find descriptions for the three clusters that match your interest pattern most closely. Under each cluster name, you will find a code number taken from the National Occupational Classification (NOC), a job classification system developed by Human Resources Development Canada. The NOC offers a comprehensive classification of occupational titles and job categories.

After each cluster description, you will find a list of some typical jobs found within that cluster. Across from each job name is an NOC code. There are many more jobs for each cluster that have not been included. You should consider these others as well. For a list of more jobs related to each cluster, check on the Internet at: (<http://noc.esdc.gc.ca/English/home.aspx>) . Browse the Occupational Descriptions and the Index of Titles, or use the Quick Search feature to learn more about specific NOC codes.

Remember that having similar interests to a job cluster does not necessarily mean that you could do well in that type of work or study. However, most people do find satisfaction with jobs that match their interests. Your counsellor can help direct you to the possible educational or career areas to explore.

Occupations in Social Sciences

The Social Science cluster covers a broad range of occupations, as it represents individuals who study the past, present, and future of civilization. Some social scientists are interested in examining the artifacts of past civilizations in order to reconstruct history, such as Archaeologists and Anthropologists. Sociologists, on the other hand, look at present society to examine how various social, religious and/or political institutions influence group interactions and shape individual behaviour. In business, social scientists are employed in a number of fields, for example, market research, and industrial and labour relations. Most, if not all of the occupations in this cluster will require post-secondary education. Listed below is a sample of jobs in this field. To learn more about the occupations that make up this job cluster, search the complete NOC listings at (<http://noc.esdc.gc.ca/English/noc/welcome.aspx?ver=16>).

Occupations in Art

There is a wide range of occupations included in this category. Individuals working in this area are involved in any of a number of artistic occupations, such as photography, interior design of public and private places, graphic art, or illustrating. Graphic Designers and Illustrating Artists create illustrations, designs, cartoons or caricatures for books, magazines, billboards, and for other purposes, including advertising, entertainment or education. Photographers and Art Directors, also included in this cluster, are engaged in activities such as conceiving artistic and special effects, arranging and preparing subject matter and operating special photographic or computer graphics equipment. Many people who work in this field show high interests on the Art and Writing scales of the Career Directions Inventory, but obtain low scores on the Clerical and Administrative scales, which indicate a dislike of routine and predictable activities. While some people interested in working in this area will enter it directly from secondary schools, most will enroll in the appropriate college courses. Listed below is only a small sample of the occupations available in this field. Refer to the NOC for more information on these jobs and on other related occupations. To learn more about the occupations that make up this job cluster, search the complete NOC listings at (<http://noc.esdc.gc.ca/English/noc/welcome.aspx?ver=16>).

Educational Specialty Cluster Profile Explanation

NOC Code: Use the codes listed in this column to search the complete NOC listings at (<http://noc.esdc.gc.ca/English/noc/welcome.aspx?ver=16>).

Percentile: The scores under this heading indicate the percentage of people in a comparison group who received a lower interest score than you did.

Comb: The scores in the Combined column compare your interests with the combined group of males and females.

Male: The scores in the Male column of percentiles compare your interests with those of the males in the comparison group.

Female: The scores in the Female column of percentiles compare your interests with those of the females in the comparison group.

Administrative Indices

The following scores show how much confidence can be placed in your CDI results. For most people, these scores fall in the normal range, indicating consistent and normal responses to the CDI. If one of your scores falls outside the normal range, you should take a second look at your CDI results. If you feel that your results do not reflect your true interests, you should retake the CDI.

Percentage of Scorable Responses: 100
Infrequency Score: 41 (Normal)
Incorrect Items: 0 (Normal)
Reliability Index: 0.78 (Normal)

Administrative Indices assist in evaluating the confidence with which your results can be interpreted. Your Administrative Indices are within normal limits.

Where To Go From Here

By completing the CDI, you have taken the first step toward the thoughtful selection of your career. You have learned more about yourself, your vocational interests, and how they compare to people studying and working in a variety of career areas. However, in order to choose a career successfully, you will have to learn more about your areas of interest. Listed below are a variety of suggestions to help you explore your career options.

Books

While the books listed along with your top 3 job groups will help you learn more about those areas, general books can help you with the process of choosing a career, obtaining the necessary education, and conducting a job search.

Activities

Use the general activities listed below to structure your career exploration process.

Gather Information About Yourself

- Take a look at your school marks to see what subject areas are your strongest. See how your marks relate to your top job groups and make decisions accordingly.
- Make a list of your physical, mental, interpersonal, informational, and practical skills. Look into how to improve the skills that relate to your career matches.
- Make a list of the qualifications you have, i.e. courses, degrees, certificates, diplomas, and licenses. Check to see whether your qualifications match those required for the careers you are interested in.
- Explore your values and think about how your moral, political, and religious beliefs may affect your career decisions.
- Consider how important public contact, compensation, opportunities for advancement, challenge, travel, work environment, location, family responsibilities, and hobbies are to you. Relate these preferences to your job groups.

Gather Information About Careers

- Check out the descriptions of occupations in your top three job groups and your other high job groups. Visit the National Occupational Classification at (<http://noc.esdc.gc.ca/English/noc/welcome.aspx?ver=16>) and the U.S. Occupational Outlook Handbook at www.bls.gov/ooh.
- Check out the official job site of the Canadian Federal Government for valuable employment information at <http://jobs-emplois.gc.ca>.
- Explore your local library to find books, periodicals, newspapers, and other resources related to your potential career paths.
- Visit job fairs in your area to learn more about what companies are hiring and what positions related to your high job groups are currently in demand.
- Watch educational movies on individuals in the careers that you may be interested in. Contact your local library, school, or video store for a list of titles.
- Read magazines that focus on career trends and issues as well as on industries that relate to your top occupational interests.
- Find out what it is like to actually work in a certain occupation. Read interviews from people in careers that you may be interested in at www.jobprofiles.org.
- Explore an exhaustive list of career resources, career links, and industry information on the web at www.rileyguide.com.

Start Decision Making and Action Planning

- Check out College and University Fairs to find schools that have programs that relate to your possible career path. Or search for suitable schools online at www.schoolfinder.com, www.canadian-universities.net, and www.campusstarter.com.
- Research ways to finance an education in the area that interests you. Visit www.studentawards.com for information on available scholarships and financial aid.
- Take extra classes that relate to your potential career path. Contact your local high schools, colleges, universities, and private organizations for more information.
- Attend Resume Writing and Interview Workshops to prepare yourself for job searching.
- Get the work experience you need by being an intern in a position that matches your career interests. Visit www.careeredge.ca for more information on internship possibilities.
- Start searching for jobs in your field online. Check out www.jobpostings.ca, www.Jobbank.gc.ca, and www.workopolis.com for job listings, resume posting and more.
